PROGRAM BROCHURE

Beijing Normal University
Philosophy Summer School

Overview

With more than 3000 years of advanced civilization, China has a rich tradition of philosophical thinking and moral reasoning. To enable young students and scholars all around the world to get in touch with Chinese culture, to understand China's contemporary situation, and to develop an interest in Chinese philosophy, the School of Philosophy of Beijing Normal University (BNU) will hold Confucius China Studies Program • BNU Philosophy Summer School from July 4 to July 19, 2021. The general theme for the summer school 2021 will be "Traditional Chinese Philosophy: Human Nature and Virtue".

Designed for global university students and young faculty members who are curious about traditional Chinese culture, Confucius China Studies Program • BNU Philosophy Summer School has run for five successful sessions in 2015, 2016, 2017, 2018 and 2019. Our invited speakers are world-renowned scholars who offer unique insights into traditional Chinese philosophy and thought-provoking discussions on contemporary China. The Philosophy Summer School also presents a unique opportunity to meet young people from around the world who share a passion to explore the treasures of Chinese civilization. Our Philosophy Summer School enriches philosophical understanding while offering precious memories for both the students and the teachers.

Program Highlights

World-renowned Scholars

Distinguished scholars focusing on the study of traditional Chinese thoughts will share their unique insights with you.

Rich Variety of Lectures

Thought-provoking lectures will enable you to better understand Chinese culture and its current situation.

Cultural Experience

Experience the charm of Beijing where ancient wisdom meets modernity by visiting places of historical interests and the city's modern landmarks.

A wonderful cultural trip to Qufu, hometown of Confucius, will deepen your knowledge on Confucianism and enable you to experience various cultural activities.

Intercultural Communication

A great opportunity to network and exchange ideas with young people from around the world.

Dynamic Location

The Philosophy Summer School will take place at Beijing Normal University (BNU), a location very close to the city center of Beijing. The Forbidden City is 30 minutes' drive away, while the Bird's Nest (the National Olympic Stadium) can be reached in less than 15 minutes.

About the Organizers

The Confucius Institute Headquarters is a public institution affiliated with the Ministry of Education of China. It is committed to providing teaching resources and services for Chinese language and cultural studies worldwide. It seeks to foster a deeper understanding of China and Chinese culture among younger generations around the world, to promote the development of Confucius Institutes, and to enhance friendly relationships between China and the rest of the world. The Confucius Institute Headquarters is generously providing funding for our BNU Philosophy Summer School through its Young Leaders Fellowship Program.

Beijing Normal University is one of the top universities in China. It was the first university in China to produce Nobel Prize winners. BNU has 16 national key disciplines, and our programs in Education, Psychology, History, Ecology and Geography were all ranked No. 1 in China in the 2013 official ranking by the Ministry of Education.

The School of Philosophy is renowned for its research in Confucianism, Daoism, Yijing studies, Buddhism, as well as Western philosophy. The School also enjoys fruitful collaborations with top overseas universities. It publishes the first English-language philosophy journal from China, Frontiers of Philosophy in China, which was graded as “Q2” by SCImago in 2015. Every year the School invites dozens of international scholars to deliver lectures and to attend conferences. We also send large numbers of faculty members and students abroad for international conferences, further training, and academic exchange.

Comments from Previous Students

The summer school is super rewarding. I learnt so much about Chinese culture!

Really enjoyed these days. Going to recommend the summer school to friends.

Campus and cities are beautiful!

Very inspirational summer school. Have learned a lot which I can apply for the rest of my life.
